

Techfilter System Protection Unit

The Techfilter System Protection Unit provides protection against the intrusion of roots into subsurface drip irrigation systems, for periods up to two years or 200 hours of operation. As water passes through its cartridge of Trifluralin-impregnated discs, minute quantities (parts per billion) of the chemical, are released into the irrigation system.

Features and Benefits:

- Trifluralin chemical is delivered evenly for up to two years throughout the system whenever water is flowing, providing constant protection against root intrusion into drippers.
- Replacement cartridges are available to save the cost of replacing the complete unit.
- Trifluralin cartridges are supplied in a sealed package to optimise shelf life and reduce risk of contamination.
- Trifluralin is classified as a Schedule 5 poison that requires caution during handling. Techfilter cartridges are easily installed and replaced without operator skin contact.
